Big economies are growing faster than their clean energy supplies, meaning industries still rely heavily on fossil fuels and emissions remain high.
Without breaking the link between economic growth and carbon pollution, countries face increasing climate disasters, regulatory penalties, and fragile economies.

1.03K	481.23K	27.90	465.01
Total GDP	Total CO2	Avg Renewable Share	Carbon Intensity

Sum of GDP (in Trillions USD) and Sum of CO2 Emissions (Million Metric Tons) by Year and Country

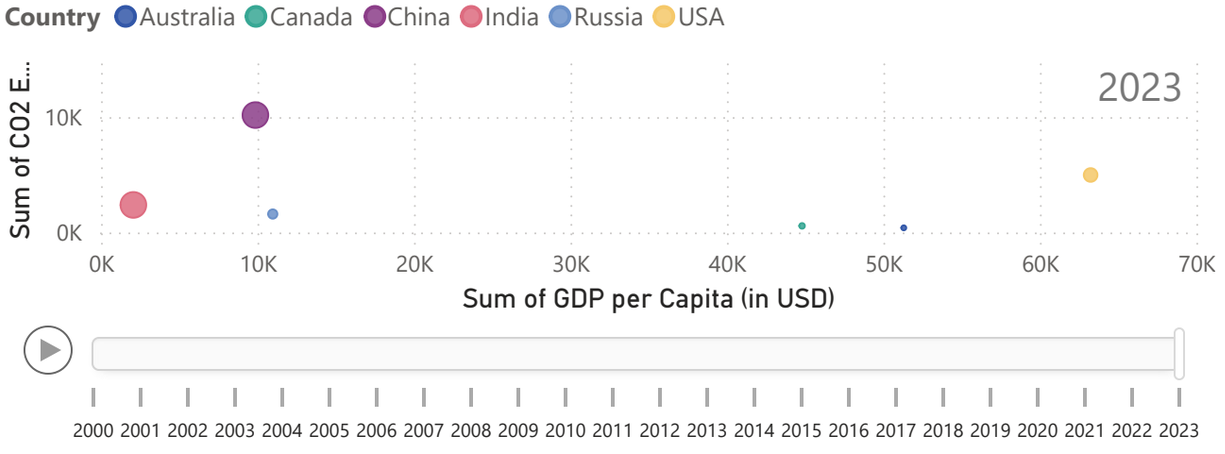

Sum of Renewable Energy Share (%) by Year and Country

Country	Starting GDP	Ending GDP	GDP Growth %	Starting CO2	Ending CO2	CO2 Growth %
Australia	1.38	1.27	-0.08	421.48	396.47	-0.06
Canada	1.65	1.73	0.05	516.78	565.92	0.10
China	13.64	13.72	0.01	9,690.00	10,170.00	0.05
India	2.98	2.79	-0.06	2,443.20	2,383.20	-0.02
Russia	1.64	1.64	0.00	1,660.80	1,593.60	-0.04
USA	20.87	21.17	0.01	5,156.10	4,977.60	-0.03
Total	42.16	42.32	0.00	19,888.36	20,086.79	0.01

Sum of GDP per Capita (in USD), Sum of CO2 Emissions (Million Metric Tons) and Sum of Population (in Millions) by Country and Year

Sum of Renewable Energy Share (%) by Year

